Universities

University of Sydney Kickstart in the School Holidays
4th to 6th July, The University of Sydney, Camperdown
Parts of the science syllabus require equipment or expertise in areas that many schools may not be able to provide. Kickstart workshops give HSC students a chance to do experiments and demonstrations of key ideas in the syllabus that are difficult to do in the classroom.
While on campus, why not also head along to STANSW’s HSC Science Exam Preparation sessions? Don’t miss out on an excellent opportunity to revise for the HSC and see what university science study has to offer – register for Kickstart now!
